

SUp?

November 2010 to January 2011

Brrrr....Why is the office so cold?

Because there's hardly anyone inside to generate heat!

We began 2011 with our trainers in Makassar training urban poor community women to start learning centers for young children. Our teacher training program with Tanoto Foundation has also picked up steam, sending our trainers far and wide to Sumatra Utara and Jambi.

Closer to home, our semester program at the State University of Jakarta (Universitas Negeri Jakarta) and lecturer training program at the University of Education Indonesia (Universitas Pendidikan Indonesia) beckons our trainers to come back to the office! Come back soon...we need your body heat!

Kayee
Director

This is why the office has been so cold...

Ongoing programs:

Capacity Upgrade of Lecturers – University of Education Indonesia (Elementary Education Campus)

Creativity Education – Teacher students - University of Education Indonesia (Elementary Education Campus)

RESEARCH PROJECT: EFFECTIVE CREATIVE TEACHING PROGRAMS IN TEACHER TRAINING UNIVERSITIES

Degree program - Creativity Education (Lesson Planning)
Teacher Students – State University of Jakarta (Faculty of Early Childhood Education)

Date of publication: 18th February 2011

TANOTO FOUNDATION'S EDUCATION IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

Sumatra Utara

Riau

Jambi

Small Library Management Running and managing a small library

Jambi

Jambi

Active Learning

SUp?

UPLINK (URBAN POOR LINKAGE) Running learning centers on a shoestring budget

Research

We have ongoing and completed research on all the programs we implement. Please talk to us if you would like to know more!

GOING FORWARD, Credo is planning to implement:

- Part 2 of our lecturer capacity upgrade project at the State University of Makassar (Universitas Negeri Makassar)
- Phase 4 in Creative Teaching in Urban Poor Learning Centers, URBAN POOR CONSORTIUM.
- Environmentally Friendly Schools projects (Tanoto Foundation)
- Part 2 of Active Learning (Tanoto Foundation)
- Part 2 of Small Library Management (Tanoto Foundation)

Numbers at a Glance

Who have we taught or trained?	How many?
Higher education students	1535
External teachers & educators	2083
Other professionals	273

Income and Expenses at a Glance

Period 1 January – 31 December 2010

Income

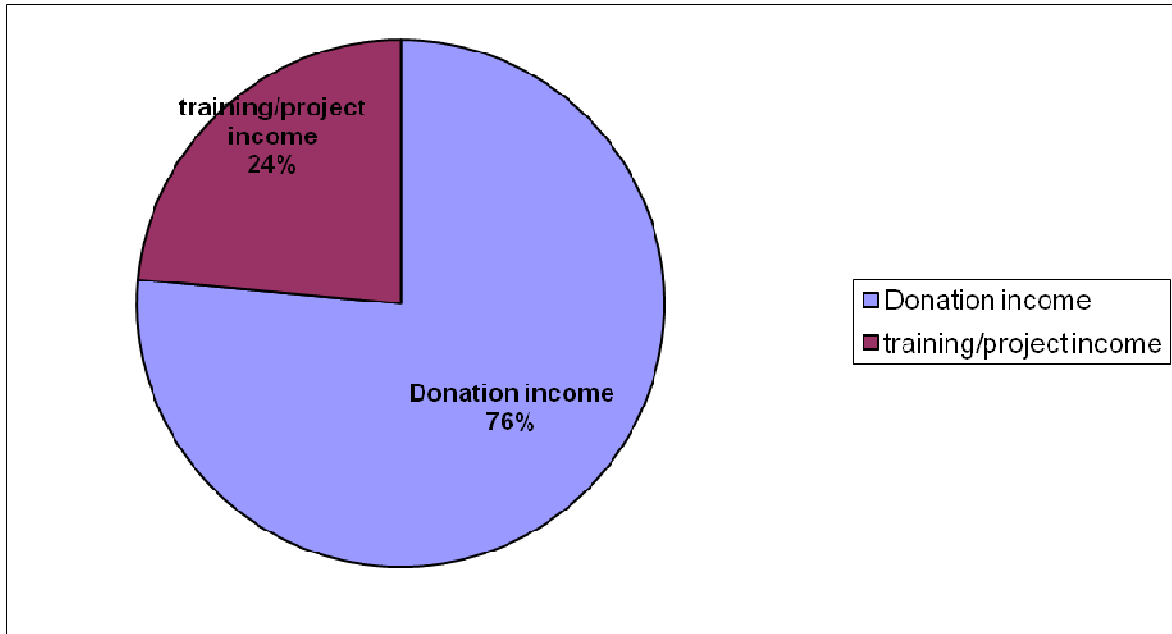

Rp 767,188,382.74

Expenses

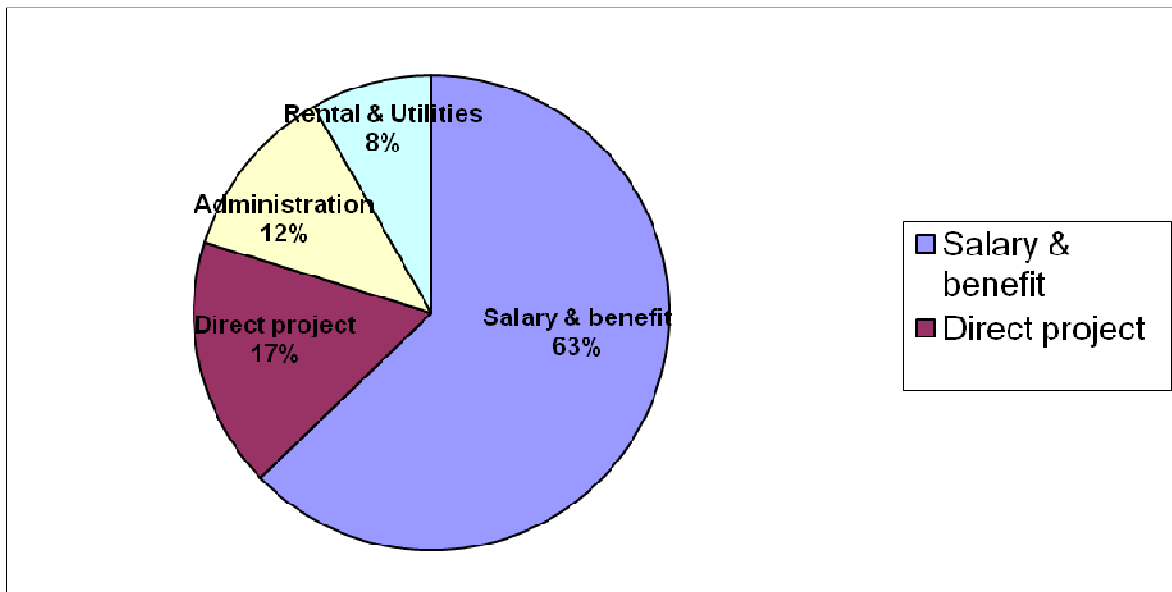

Rp 713,311,761.71

Date of publication: 18th February 2011

Breakdown of Income

Breakdown of Expenses

Note: figures and accounts presented are un-audited.

Date of publication: 18th February 2011

SUp?

How you can help Credo achieve its mission

Project Ownership

Take ownership of a particular project. We'll be happy to discuss with you the format of funding and ownership, and whether or how you might wish to be personally involved.

General Monetary Contribution

Alternatively, you may prefer to consider a general monetary contribution to Credo without taking ownership of a particular project.

Financial Update

Credo spent Rupiah 710 million in the period January until December 2010. This figure excludes the salary of the Director and Master Trainer of Credo whose time is currently donated. Revenue has been earned by way of selling training and we continue to sell training as a means of generating income. Credo's financial accounts can be made available for further information.

Credo bank account details:

Name of Bank: BCA

Account no.: 178 303 1811

Account name: Yayasan Credo

Thank you so much for your time and consideration in helping Credo build a more creative Indonesia.